Authorized licensees may use the NVM Express Marks only as provided in these Guidelines. Your use must not mislead the public as to any sponsorship, affiliation, or endorsement of your company, or your products or services by NVM Express, Inc.

Note that NVM Express, Inc. may deny Member companies access to the logo artwork files if, in NVM Express Inc.’s sole determination, the Member is at that time making improper use of any NVM Express Marks as required under these Guidelines. NVM Express, Inc. is not, however, under any duty to police compliance with our Guidelines except as provided under trademark law.

In the event that these Guidelines change such that a Member’s use of the NVM Express Marks no longer complies with these Guidelines, the Member must phase out any nonconforming use of all NVM Express Marks within three(3) months, or such other reasonable period of time as agreed to in writing by NVM Express, Inc..

The uses of any trademarks of NVM Express, Inc. referenced in these Guidelines do not in any way constitute a license from NVM Express, Inc. apart or independent from a full trademark licensing agreement or otherwise grant permission to a Member to use the trademarks.

APPLICATION OF THESE GUIDELINES

The trademarks, service marks and logos owned by the NVM Express, Inc. are collectively referred to in these Guidelines as the “NVM Express Marks”. In these Guidelines, one particular mark, such as the NVM Express™ logo mark, or the NVMe™ word mark, may be used as an example to illustrate a particular guideline. However, each guideline is to be applied to the use of any and all of the NVM Express Marks listed in these Guidelines.

TRADemark DESIGNATIONS TO BE USED WITH ALL NVM EXPRESS MARKS

The appropriate trademark symbols or designations (® and TM) must be applied to the NVM Express Marks in accordance with the current list of marks which may be provided as an appendix to these Guidelines and as updated from time to time.

The ® symbol designation is used with those NVM Express Marks that have been registered with the United States Patent & Trademark Office (USPTO). The “TM” designation is used with those NVM Express Marks that have not yet been registered with the USPTO.

NVM Express Marks that are logos or stylized marks must appear with the trademark symbols exactly as shown in the NVM Express digital artwork files.

For NVM Express Marks that are word marks, the marks should be used with the proper designation (either the “TM” designation or the ® registration designation) immediately above and to the right of the mark. For example: NVM Express™ specification.

Where it is difficult or impossible to reproduce the TM notice in the above format, use “(TM)” immediately to the right of the mark. For example: NVM Express (TM) specification.

Repeated References

For repeated references to NVM Express Marks in a continuous document (such as a white paper, report, press release, and the like), use the appropriate trademark symbol/designation (® or TM) with any use of any particular mark in the title of the document and with the first use of any particular mark in the body of the text. Subsequent use of any particular mark does not require further trademark symbol/designation (® or TM) .

For repeated references to the NVM Express Marks in materials that can be easily separated and reordered (such as a presentations, transparencies, or Web site), use the appropriate trademark symbol/designation (® or TM) with the first use of any particular mark on each “page.” Subsequent use of any particular mark on the same “page” does not require further trademark symbol/designation (® or TM).

In all other contexts, use the appropriate trademark symbols/designation (® or TM) with each and every use of a mark.

Legends

NVM Express, Inc. strongly encourages its licensees to use a trademark ownership legend. NVM Express, Inc. requires its licensees to use a legend in any materials in which the licensee uses any NVM Express Mark or has a legend to identify any third party as the owner of any marks. Logo marks may be identified by the word portion of the mark, followed by the words “design mark” (for example, “NVM Express™ design mark”). The preferred form of legend is:

The NVM Express™ design mark and NVMe™ word mark are trademarks of NVM Express, Inc.

Registration

NVM Express, Inc. may apply for registration of various NVM Express Marks from time to time. As registrations issue, the required and/or preferred forms of trademark symbols/designation (® or TM) and legends listed above must be changed; and these Guidelines (including, but not limited to, any appendix hereto”) will be revised to reflect the necessary changes. All users must comply with updated Guidelines as of their effective date.

NVM EXPRESS MARKS THAT ARE WORD MARKS - MANNER OF USAGE

Appearance of Marks

Therefore, the word mark NVM Express™ or other marks listed above should be used only as an adjective to describe a generic product or service (unless referring specifically and only to its existence as a name or mark). Art Files

The NVM Express Logos are available in various digital file formats.

Print Applications

Encapsulated Postscript (EPS) files were created in Adobe* Illustrator* and can be reproduced at any size without compromising quality. Use these versions for printing. Each version is a separate file. Logos can be printed using either PANTONE® colors or the 4 color process mix specified on pages 6-9. Type has been converted to outlines: no fonts are required to reproduce the logos. The files have been saved for both Macintosh* and PC.

On Screen Applications

These versions are for on screen applications such as the Web or Microsoft* PowerPoint* presentations. They have been created in RGB color mode, and should not be used for offset printing. Keep in mind that these files look their best when placed at 100% size, or smaller.

PNG and/or JPEG files are provided for use in on-screen applications.

EPS files were created in Adobe Illustrator and are saved in RBG color format. These files are to be used in software applications that utilize vector-based artwork, e.g. Adobe* Flash*.
